National Sunday School Week is April 13 to 19

Mrs. Ernest A. Simmons of Elsinore, Religion chairman for C.F.W.C. urges all clubs to support and cooperate with the 25th annual observance of National Sunday School Week, April 13 to 19, 1959.

The slogan that has been adopted for National Sunday School Week 1959 is "Make Every Week Sunday School Week."

Mrs. Benton, President CFWC, and Miss Gifford, Washington, D. C. President CFWC, join Mrs. Simmons in stressing the importance of this observance.

"This great land of ours," said Miss Gifford, "was founded by men and women who above everything else had an abiding faith in God. All through the years it has been this faith that has made the American home the cornerstone of integrity, morality, and belief in a Supreme Being. Today, in the space age, many unthinking people are forgetting the fundamental principles which guided our forefathers. No mechanical device can be a substitute for the good old virtues exemplified by our founders. "Psychiatrists tell us that a person's character is formed by the time he is three. Yet there are many boys and girls not attending Sunday School today. The mothers of America could do well to form a crusade to get children into Sunday School. Certainly this would help to combat juvenile delinquency so prevalent today. "As a former Sunday School teacher, I urge all clubwomen to see to it that their children, their grandchildren, and their neighbors' children attend Sunday School."

YOUR PROBLEMS

Ann Landers

... Opens Fields For Sadistic Men

Dean Ann Landers: I have never thought it would happen in my lifetime. Male superiority finally is recognized! The turning point came in the decision of the Iowa Supreme Court that a husband can spank his wife if the wife needs it and no cruelty is involved.

Ever since women got the vote in this country they've been crowding men out of jobs and denying them their rightful place as head of the house. Women have donned blue jeans and overalls and handed their husbands ruffled aprons and orders to "feed the baby, fix dinner, do the dishes and carry out the trash."

Iowa is going to have a host of red-faced wives (not to mention other parts of their anatomy) when they discover the whip-hand is now possessed by the male. Let's hope the male responds by taking advantage of this opportunity to restore the proper balance between the sexes.

A NEW PETRUCHIO

Dear Petruchio: I have not caught up with this alleged ruling but if it's true that the Supreme Court of Iowa has condoned wife-spanking, I'm going to disclaim Iowa as my native state and ask Illinois or Minnesota to adopt me.

A ruling that would permit wife-spanking opens a whole new field for cruel and sadistic men. Just where does spanking end, and beating begin? And who is to decide if she "needs it?"

A husband who would spank his wife places her in the category of a child. A wife who would tolerate such indignity admits she's an adolescent who longs to be punished by "Papa" (poor thing). Such a woman should never have married. She should have stayed at home and played with her dolls.

Dear Ann: This is a touchy one. Can you help? Our son's wife has several pictures of her family scattered throughout the house. I thought it would be nice if they had a picture of my husband and me. We went to a photographic studio and spent quite a lot of money to have a portrait made. We presented it to them in a lovely frame.

Imagine my shock several days later when I discovered they had put a picture of their children in the frame, and our portrait was face-down underneath.
